Write the Author's Position and Attitude in On His Blindness.

John Milton's (1608-74) "On His Blindness" (1673) is a deeply personal sonnet. It reflects his struggle with blindness and his faith in God. In this poem, Milton explores his feelings of frustration and acceptance. He expresses his belief in serving God even when faced with limitations.

The Author's Position- Subjective: Milton believes that God is kind and fair. He wonders if God wants him to work even though he is blind. Later, he understands that God does not need big actions. God is happy with patience and trust. Milton thinks that everyone can serve God by doing their best. This shows his strong trust in God's plan and care.

The Author's Attitude- Optimistic: Milton's attitude is optimistic. At first, he feels worried about his blindness. Then, he learns to be patient. He believes that waiting and trusting God is also a way to serve Him. Milton accepts his blindness and finds peace in his faith. This attitude shows his humble and hopeful nature.

In this sonnet, Milton inspires readers to trust in God and remain hopeful during difficult times. His faith and acceptance make the poem meaningful for everyone.
