

Evaluate the poem “Lullaby” as a lyric.

Generated: Jan 26, 2026

Evaluate the poem “Lullaby” as a lyric.

Tennyson’s (1809-92) “Lullaby” (1847) is a gentle and touching poem. It feels like a soft song sung to calm a child. Its simple words and sweet rhythm make it a great example of a lyric poem.

- Musical Quality: The poem has a musical flow. The repetition of words like “sweet and low” creates a soothing rhythm. The rhyme scheme adds to its melody. It feels like a lullaby you can sing.
- Emotion: The poem is full of love and care. The speaker wants the child to feel safe. The mention of the father and mother shows family warmth. It speaks of deep affection.
- Imagery: Tennyson uses soft, dreamlike images. Words like “silver moon” and “rolling waters” create a peaceful scene. They make you imagine the gentle sea and a calm night.

The poem shows how a lyric can touch the heart. It uses rhythm, love, and pictures to create beauty. It feels like a sweet dream put into words.