

Leda and the Swan Theme

Writer: William Butler Yeats | Generated: Jan 26, 2026

Themes:

- Power and Helplessness: The poem shows the power of Zeus over Leda. Leda is weak and cannot fight back. This shows the unfairness of powerful forces over the weak.
- Violence: The poem talks about how violence can lead to big changes. The attack on Leda starts a chain of events, like the Trojan War.
- Divine Influence: The poem shows how Gods can control human lives. Zeus uses his power without caring about Leda's feelings.
- Consequences of Actions: The violent act leads to the birth of Helen, which causes the fall of Troy. This shows that one event can change history.
