"Truth may perhaps come to the price of a pearl."

Exp:

It is said because truth is as rare as it is priceless. Like pearls, truth is not easily found. The man who has truth in his heart is truly valuable.

"A mixture of a lie doth ever add pleasure."

Exp:

It is said because lies make stories more interesting. People enjoy such mixed truth.

"He (a liar) is brave towards God, and a coward towards men."

Exp:

This statement expresses a hard truth. It is said because a liar fears people, not God. He hides the truth to please men. A liar does not fear God's omniscience. But he hides the truth out of fear of human criticism. This shows that he dislikes God, while he is busy protecting the minds of people.

"It being foretold, that when Christ cometh, he shall not find faith upon the earth."

Exp:

This statement paints a sad picture of the future. It says that people will gradually lose the path of truth, faith, and trust. One day, selfless faith in God will disappear from society.
