

She Dwelt among the Untrodden Ways Characters

Writer: William Wordsworth | Generated: Jan 26, 2026

Lucy: Lucy is the central character of the poem. She is a young woman who lives a quiet and solitary life in a remote rural area. Wordsworth describes her as a “maid”.

The Poet (Speaker): The poet or speaker of the poem is not explicitly named, but it is supposed to be Wordsworth himself.

Nature: A significant role in the poem is played by nature, as it is described as Lucy's companion and source of comfort.
