

Snowflakes Sail Gently Down quotations

Writer: Gabriel Okara | Generated: Jan 26, 2026

1. "The snow flakes sail gently down from the misty eye of the sky."

Explanation:

This line shows the calm and soft beauty of nature. The "misty eye of the sky" makes the sky seem alive and emotional, as if nature is quietly watching over the earth.

2. "The branches... bow like grief-stricken mourners."

Explanation:

The bending branches are compared to mourners, showing sorrow and heaviness. It reflects how nature shares the sadness and suffering of human life.

3. "White funeral cloth is slowly unrolled over deathless earth."

Explanation:

The falling snow is described as a white funeral cloth covering the earth. It represents death, peace, and the eternal cycle of life and nature.

4. "I dreamed of birds, black birds flying in my inside."

Explanation:

The black birds in the poet's dream symbolize imagination, creativity, and rebirth. They show how new life and energy grow even in silence and darkness.

5. "The earth lying inscrutable like the face of a god in a shrine."

Explanation:

The earth is described as mysterious and sacred, like a god's face in a temple. This line suggests that nature is divine, powerful, and full of spiritual peace.
